

The Web edition of Saxton's map of Essex

SAXTON, Christopher.

Essexiæ Comitatus Nova vera ac absoluta descriptio An<sup>o</sup> D. ni 1642.

London: William Web, 1645. 415 x 525mm.

£2,750

An example of William Web's rare re-issue of the Saxton map of Essex, the first printed map of the county, engraved in 1576. Web has made only two significant changes: the date has been updated, and the arms of Elizabeth have been replaced by those of Charles I (with a unicorn instead of a Welsh dragon), although the initials 'E R' have been left behind in error.

SKELTON: 27.
