

18th century plan of St Petersburg

GENTLEMAN'S MAGAZINE.

Plan of St Petersburg With It's Fortifications Built by Peter The Great in 1703. [with] The Harbour of Crownsloot; Riva Neva; Canal made from the said River to the R. Wolschowa.

London, 1749. 190 x 245mm.

£200

Two maps on one sheet: a plan of St Petersburg after Homann's map of 1724; and a plan of the Old Ladoga Canal, opened in 1731, linking the Volkhov River and the Neva (thus St Petersburg and Gulf of Finland) while bypassing the dangerous Lake Ladoga.

Stock ID :18872