

Carteret's chart of New Ireland

CARTERET, Philip.
Nova Hibernia.

London, c.1773. 220 x 340mm.

£50

A chart of New Ireland, an island in Papua New Guinea, visited and named by Carteret in 1767. It was published in Hawkesworth's 'An account of the voyages undertaken by the order of His present Majesty for making discoveries in the Southern Hemisphere', which contained the official account of Cook's First Circumnavigation. Includes 7 coastal views.

Stock ID :19502