

17th century map of Colombia

BLAEU, Willem Janszoon.

Terra Firma et Novum Regnum Granatense et Popayan.

Amsterdam, 1640, Latin text edition. Original colour. 380 x 490mm.

£600

Decorative map of Colombia, part of Ecuador, Costa Rica and Panama, extending south to Esmeraldas and Venezuela extending east nearly to Caracas. Featuring two large compass roses, and two large cartouches. This map was one of the plates bought by Willem Blaeu from the estate of Jodocus Hondius II in 1629, much to the chagrin of the Hondius firm.
