

Van der Aa's scarce large-format double-hemisphere world

AA, Pieter van der.
 Nova Orbis Terraquei Tabula Accuratissime Delineata.

Leiden, 1713. Coloured. 505 x 665mm.

£6,500

A large-format world map, with superb pictorial borders featuring allegorical figures of the Continents and the Elements. California is shown as an island; Australia and New Zealand only have partial outlines; and cartographical errors include Frobisher's Straits in Greenland, a line of islands in the south east Pacific, and Jesso and Campanies Land to the north of Japan.
