

A plan of London in the reign of William IV

GARDNER, James.

A New Plan of the Cities of London & Westminster with the Borough of Southwark.

London, 1833. Original colour. Dissected and laid on linen, as issued, total 505 x 755mm.

£1,200

A detailed plan of London in the decade before the arrival of the first railways. It extends to Hyde Park in the west, clockwise to St John's Wood (here 'Portland Town'), Islington, Hackney, Limehouse, Rotherhithe, Kennington (with the Oval) to Battersea Bridge and Chelsea. A part circle denotes the extend of the 'Two Penny Post'.

Stock ID :21958